

EPNOE Workshop on Fiber-Reinforced Composites

EPNOE (European Polysaccharide Network of Excellence) organises a workshop on Fiber-Reinforced Composites in Feldkirch (Austria) on 11-12 July 2018.

The workshop will focus on challenges, advances, and all questions related to the technology and applications of polysaccharide-based or polysaccharide-containing fiber-reinforced composites.

Researchers from academia and industry, including students, are invited to present their work and participate in the discussions. Both oral and poster presentations will be scheduled.

We hope that you will be interested in participating.
